It is a wonderful Catholic tradition to request a Mass Intention for loved ones; living or deceased. In fact, asking for Mass intention for the deceased is not only Catholic tradition, it is biblical (2 Maccabees 12: 38-46).

Mass intention is also a wonderful gift for any special occasion: birthday, anniversary, in thanksgiving for a prayer answered, etc.

Please call the parish office to schedule a Mass Intention.

PRAY FOR OUR MILITARY

The men and women that serve in the armed forces do so with a form of sacrificial love for our country and the world. Lifting them up in prayer to the Lord must be our humble, and yet great support for them.

Lord, may your love encircle our military as they work across the world to install justice and peace for all. And be their hope through the difficulties and stresses they face each day.

SPIRITUAL LIFE

FROM THE DESK OF OUR ADMINISTRATOR Fr. Emerson Rodriguez Delgado

Ever feel like there's got to be more to life than this? Like you were made for something bigger, something that lasts forever? You're not alone. Deep down, we all have this longing for eternity.

We try to fill that longing in different ways. Poets write about how fast life goes by. Artists pour their souls into creating something that will outlast them. Parents find purpose in their children, hoping to live on through them. But that desire for something more never really goes away, does it? It's always there, like a quiet whisper in our hearts. Some people chase after youth, thinking that's the answer. They fear getting older, clinging to their younger years. Others chase after possessions, hoping to find satisfaction in stuff. But deep down, don't we all long for a life of true significance? A life that satisfies our deepest desires and lasts forever?

This is where Jesus speaks directly to our hearts. He calls himself "the bread of life." Just like bread nourishes our bodies, Jesus offers to nourish our souls with something eternal. He promises to satisfy the deepest longings of our hearts, filling that emptiness that nothing else can seem to touch.

The Gospel invites us to pursue this "food that endures to eternal life." It's not about escaping reality, but about discovering a whole new dimension to life. It's about building our lives on a love that's stronger than death, finding our purpose in loving God and loving others.

Here's the amazing part: John's Gospel tells us that eternal life isn't something we have to wait for. It's a gift we can receive right now through faith. And when we open our hearts to that gift, everything changes. We stop chasing after fleeting things like youth or possessions and start investing in what truly matters. We find a purpose that goes beyond ourselves, a hope that anchors us in the present moment.

Of course, this doesn't mean life becomes easy. We still face challenges and heartbreak. But with this eternal perspective, we can face those trials with courage and resilience. We know that our true hope lies in something bigger than ourselves.

So, that longing for eternity we all feel? It's a signpost, pointing us towards our Creator. It's a reminder that we were made for more than just this life. In Jesus, we find the answer to that longing. He offers us a relationship that satisfies our deepest hungers and lasts forever.

As St. Paul reminds us, embracing this eternal life means letting go of our old selves and embracing the new life Jesus offers. It's a life of righteousness, holiness, and true purpose. So, I ask you: what are you chasing after in your life? How are you trying to satisfy that longing for eternity? Maybe it's time to consider the invitation Jesus offers – to embrace a life that's truly full and eternally significant, starting right here, right now.
